"Drys" Hope to Have Enough Signatures to Place Petition in Auditor's Office.

WANT TO PROCURE 366 NAMES

Commissioners Will Probably Act on Question at Regular Meeting
Next Monday.

Since the word was received here yesterday evening that Governor Marshall had signed the Proctor bill, making it a law, the "dry" forces here have been working vigilantly to get enough signatures to comply with the provisions of the law, so that an election might be held here next month. This afternoon the "drys" had not yet procured enough signatures to cause the commissioners to call an election, but they hoped to get the required number before evening so that the petition might be filed in the auditor's office this evening before it closes. The commissioners will hold their regular monthly meeting Monday, when they will probably act on the petition.

The new law states that the petition, which must be filed with the county commissioners at their first regular meeting in any month, must contain twenty per cent of the voters in the unit, where the liquor question is to be voted on, the vote for secretary of the State at the last general election to be taken as a basis. The same problem is confronted here as in every other county—that of determining the number of voters in the city. The city precincts extend out into the township and it is impossible to determine the number of voters which were cast in Rushville in the last general election. For that reason the "drys" found twenty per cent of the vote cast in Rushville township for the secretary of State at the last general election to be 366 and they started out to get that number of signatures to the petition. If they do not succeed in getting the exact number, the "drys" believe that the commissioners will consider near that number enough, since 366 would be more than enough. The "drys" however, believe that they will obtain 366 before this evening.

At any rate it will be impossible for saloons to get a foothold in Rushville before an election is held, if the Proctor amendment to the Proctor bill, which was agreed on in party caucus before Governor Marshall would sign the bill making it a law, is passed by the legislature. There is a provision in the new amendment which will be introduced in the form of a new bill, which says the commissioners shall not be allowed to grant saloon licenses in any county where an election has already been ordered. So in case the commissioners here order an election next week, it is highly probable that the Proctor amendment will have been passed before persons have advertised and petitioned for a saloon license. In event the city is voted "wet" at the election, it will be legal for the commissioners to grant five saloon licenses for Rushville, since the population is near five thousand.

The general temperance day which is being arranged for Sunday, February 12, is only one of the features of the campaign which the "drys" in the city are planning, in case an election is called and the date set. A Men's Big Meeting, to be addressed by Senator Seaborn Wright of Georgia at the Main Street Christian church on Sunday afternoon will take place simultaneously with a women's mass meeting which will probably be held at the United Presbyterian church. Temperance orators will fill all of the church pulpits on that day.

It is commonly rumored about the city that the "wets" will fight the calling of an election before the board of commissioners and the "drys" are looking forward to several hot skirmishes. It will be remembered that the campaign here two years ago was one of the most spectacular ones in the State. A move by the "drys" only brought a more clever one from the "wets" and vice versa. It is generally conceded that the battle royal will begin next week.

1100 NAMES ON PETITION

J. P. Stech is Meeting With Great Success.

With the success J. P. Stech is having in getting names to the Sunday closing petition for the postoffice it looks as though the postoffice force will win out in the movement. Mr. Stech has received signers to the petition everywhere he has gone and the general sentiment seems to be for the Sunday closing. He has twenty-eight pages filled with names and each page will average forty names, or a total of over eleven hundred.

MEETINGS MUCH IN VOGUE THERE

Two Churches of Knightstown Arrange For a Series of Revival Sessions.

BOY PREACHER IS THERE

At Knightstown, Evangelist A. W. Oberlin, known at the "Boy Preacher of Chicago," will conduct a revival meeting in the Christian church commencing next Sunday night. A large chorus will be one of the attractions of the meeting. Mr. Oberlin is a young man, 23 years of age, but of wide experience in the evangelistic field, having begun his evangelistic career at the age of fifteen, in which he, as an evangelist, has been very successful.

Dr. E. L. Williams began a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church at Knightstown Thursday night. These meetings will continue two weeks. Prof. Fischer, formerly with "Billy" Sunday, the noted evangelist will have charge of the evan-

FORMER RESIDENT IS HERE

John Smelser of Lawrence, Kan., Returns After Long Absence.

John Smelser of Lawrence, Kansas, formerly of this county, is the guest of relatives here. Mr. Smelser attended the funeral of his brother, Smith Smelser of Lafontaine and came here for a visit with his relatives, many of whom he has not seen for several years. He is an uncle of Mrs. Emerson Hinchman and she had not seen him for forty-two years. Mr. Smelser will leave Monday for his home in the West.

STEPS ON NAIL.

RESTORES CHILD TO ITS MOTHER

Henry County Sheriff Serves Restraining Order on Lewisville Man and Takes Son.

HE HAD KIDNAPPED THE BOY

Mrs. Simon Glidden Files Suit For Divorce, Asking $10,000 Alimony and Support.

Sheriff Kirk of Henry county went to Lewisville on the Rush-Henry county line yesterday afternoon and recovered and placed in the custody of his mother, Eugene Glidden, two years old, who was kidnapped by his father Simon Glidden Thursday afternoon. At the same time the sheriff officially notified Glidden, who is wealthy and prominent, of a restraining order issued by the court preventing him from molesting Mrs. Glidden and restraining him from disposing of his property.

Mrs. Glidden after her husband drove her from their home sought refuge with her parents but Glidden went there and after attacking her father, Prof. Chestnut, attacked her also and kidnapped the child.

Mrs. Glidden yesterday afternoon filed suit in the Henry circuit court for divorce, $10,000 alimony, $1,000 to prosecute her divorce suit and $10 per week for the support of their two children until the action is settled. Glidden took the liquor cure, but began drinking again and caused a reign of terror among his wife's relatives.

Glidden is said to be a first class citizen and a fine man when not drinking. He has taken the cure for the drink habit and was doing well, but was tempted and again began drinking. This was what caused the present trouble. He and his wife were married on May 9 1907, and separated January 30, 1911. Mrs. Glidden charges that her husband was guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment in that he cursed and abused her, used violent and profane language and struck and treated her in a cruel and violent manner.

Mrs. Glidden states that her husband is an habitual drunkard and has been during most of their married life. On the night of January 29, she says he came home drunk and badly frightened her, with the result that she fled from her home and spent the night with relatives. The next day he was still drunk and she went to the home of her parents with her two children.

Thursday afternoon, February 2, he came to the home of her father and struck and abused her. They have two children, one a boy, Eugene, aged two years, and a girl, Adeline, aged three months. Before leaving her father's house Thursday afternoon Glidden forcibly took possession of the boy and took him to the home of his mother, where he has since been kept and the mother has not been able to see him. Glidden's mother, according to the complaint, can not properly care for the boy, whose health is poor, owing to the fact that she has a daughter afflicted with epilepsy, needing constant attention.

A year ago July 4, last. Deputy Sheriff Yost arrested Glidden out in the middle of a big corn field. Glidden who was intoxicated had a dozen bottles of beer and a big revolver. The officer took him to Shelbyville in an automobile and he underwent a course of treatment. He is a well behaved and well meaning man when not drinking.

The automobile industry provides a livelihood for one million persons.

ACTS MYSTIFIED POSTAL CLERKS

Assyrian Pack Peddlers Worry Postoffice Men by Their Strange Manners.

EXAMINE WALLS CAREFULLY

When They Come in Pairs, They Study Calendars and Maps Closely.

The actions of a troupe of Assyrian pack peddlers, who have their headquarters here and are traveling about the county, have caused no end of comment among the employees at the postoffice. Their actions are the least bit different from that of the ordinary American citizen, which have caused the postal clerks to take notice and see just what their strange manners mean.

When the peddlers first came to the city they began to flock into the postoffice inquiring for their mail, all speaking in broken English. Later they came in pairs and once in a while one at a time. They wandered about over the postoffice lobby aimlessly at the same time they seemed to be studying the wall intently. Some times it was not the wall but rather the map or the calendar, that they gazed at fixedly for several minutes at a time.

After they had repeated those tricks several times, they aroused the suspicion and incidentally the curiosity of the clerks who began to watch their foreign friends more closely. One day they found that, after one of the Assyrians had looked about and examined almost ever inch of space on the wall, there was one particular spot that held his attention. Soon the foreigners went through several maneuvers with his hands, made a few wild gestures, several strange exclamations and left the office hurriedly. The postoffice men hurried to the place where he had been standing but they could find nothing of particular interest on the wall.

After that the clerks were much worried. The stunt was repeated the next day by two of the foreigners and again the next day by more of them. But at last the postal men believe they have the mystery solved. Although they have never yet been able to locate any of the hieroglyphics they believe that the foreigners leave marks on the wall at some place so that their friends may know of their whereabouts. Since the post-office men have decided that is the reason for the foreigners' peculiar actions, they have been upheld in their theory by their recent movements.

KILLS SECOND HORSE

Lockjaw Causes Heavy Loss to Minor Thomas Near Fairview.

A valuable young horse belonging to Minor Thomas of near Fairview, died yesterday of lockjaw. The disease was unmistakable, yet no wound could be found upon the animal's body, and the late owner is at a loss to know how it acquired the disease. The case is more peculiar and serious in the eyes of Mr. Thomas for that reason that, some three weeks ago, he lost another horse under almost exactly similar circumstances.

The irrigation projects of this country have called for the erection of the five largest dams in the world

MEN ESCAPE BAD INJURY

Horse Runs Away, Completely Demolishing the Buggy.

Wallace Cook and a companion of New Salem are recovering from the bruises and shock which they received in a runaway through New Salem Saturday night. The horse frightened and finally managed to upset the buggy and break away. The vehicle was almost completely demolished, but the two men escaped serious injury.

WILL ADDRESS LODGE MEETING

James E. Watson Will Deliver Principal Speech at District Session of K. of P. in Greensburg.

ON THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16

The committee on arrangements preparing for the district meeting of the Knights of Pythias, to be held here on Thursday, February 16, is fortunate in securing P. G. C. James E. Watson to deliver the principal address, says the Greensburg News.

This district is composed of the counties of Bartholomew, Johnson, Shelby and Decatur. The visiting members will be received on that day and a short business session held in the forenoon. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a meeting will be held in the K. of P. opera house open to the public. At this meeting there will be some musical selections, a welcome address by P. G. C. Arthur, a talk by John Petri, of Terre Haute, Grand Chancellor of the State, and then James E. Watson, the most interesting talker in Indiana will deliver an address.

SOME HOT JUICE FLOWS ON WIRES

Hancock County Farmer's Wife Took Down Receiver but She Was
"Crossed" With I. & C.

PRESIDENT C. L. HENRY TALKS

The story of a farmer's wife in Hancock county who took down the telephone receiver just in time to receive a shock of many thousand volts which came in on the wire as it crossed with a high tension trolley wire, as told by C. L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction company, caused the senate committee on railroads to hold over a bill which has suddenly assumed importance, says the Indianapolis Sun. The farmer's wife, be it known, is still living.

The bill was introduced by Senator Netterville and regulates the construction of telephone and telegraph wires across railroad and interurban tracks to the extent of specifying that they must be of copper. If it should pass it was estimated the Western Union telegraph company will be compelled to make an outlay of $200,000 and make the change from iron wire within thirty days.

"It is hot juice which flows in those high tension wires, and it is very dangerous for the telephone or telegraph wires to fall upon them," said Mr. Henry.

Sugar alone will sustain life for a considerable time.

WORKMEN MAKE UNUSUAL FIND

Discover Human Hand While Tearing Out Back End of Jones' Store Room.

IS VERY BADLY DECOMPOSED

Theory Advanced That Member Had Been Amputated by Physician
And Buried There.

While workmen were engaged in tearing out the back end of the room formerly occupied by the Jones dry goods store this afternoon, preparatory to building an addition back to the alley, they discovered a human hand, which has evidently been buried in the ground there many years ago. The hand was taken to the Hunt hardware store, where it was displayed to many interested people.

The hand was decomposed, but still not so much as the ordinary observer would expect if the hand had been buried any great length of time. The fingernails and much of the skin is still intact, so that it is readily recognizable as a member of the human body. The skin is dry and crisp but very firm, not being so flimsy that it can be pulled apart with ease. The nails are yellow with age as is the skin.

It seems probable from a closer examination that the hand had been amputated from a human body by a physician. The two bones in the wrist are cut off evenly as if they had been cut apart by an expert surgeon. It is likely that the hand had been badly mashed or crushed, which may have caused the necessary operation. The tendons in the hand are cut and torn apart and several of the bones in the hand are broken and shoved out of their usual position. The fingers are in a straightened position, one of them being badly mangled and torn.

The only theory that is advanced is that a physician had buried the member in the ground after he had amputated it. It is known that doctors once had an office in the back room of the building, upstairs. That is generally believed to be the reason for the rather unusual find.

W.J. WAITE CAME BACK FEB. 1

This is Also the Date he First Came Here.

There is quite a coincidence attached to the fact that W. J. Waite removed to this city from Connersville on February 1. Mr. Waite was formerly in the drug business here, having first located in this city on February 1, 1883. He left this city a few years ago, going to Terre Haute and then to Connersville. In all Mr. Waite has been in this city except for the time he was in Connersville, just 28 years, coming back on the same day of the month he first started in business here. Mr. Waite has accepted a position at Wolcott's drug store.

WERE BEATEN ON THEIR OWN FLOOR

Local High School Basket Ball Team

Defeated Connersville For Second Time This Season.

THE FINAL SCORE WAS 38 TO 32

Large Crowd From Here Witnessed

Contest Which Was Very Fast—Second Team Lost.

Accompanied by seventy-five loyal rooters the local high school basket ball team journeyed to Connersville last night where they met and defeated the high school team of that place. The final score was 38 to 32. The game was close throughout and the final count being in doubt until the last few minutes of play. It was one of the fastest and cleanest games ever seen on the Connersville floor.

The contest started with a rush, Bebout scoring a field goal after two minutes of play. Connersville came back in a few minutes and tied the score. The game saw-sawed back and forth with Rushville in the lead by a margin of two or three points. Near the close of the half Rushville, by two field goals in rapid succession, forged ahead, the half ending, 21 to 16.

Connersville came back strong in the second half and for a time it looked as though they would overcome the local's lead. They would get within three or four points of tying the score when Rushville would add another field goal and be out of danger.

Bebout, captain and center on the local team, played the same consistent game he has all season, making a total of 22 points. Kirkpatrick, the diminutive forward on the Rushville team, played a close second to Bebout, making 10 points.

For Connersville, Trussler and Castleman played a star game, their work being fast and clean. The two teams lined up as follows: C. H. S.—Trussler and Bell, forwards; Castleman, center; Nickoles and Myers, guards. R. H. S.—Wileoxin and Kirkpatrick, forwards; Bebout, center; Petry, Carroll and Cameron, guards. Field goals, Wileoxin, 3, Kirkpatrick 5, Bebout, 8, Wileoxin, 3, Bell, 2, Castleman, 6. Goals from foul, Bebout, 6, Trussler, 6. Referee, Smelser; umpire, Hallman.

In the curtain-raiser between the local second team and the second team of Connersville, the locals were entirely outclassed, losing by a score of 29 to 9. Connersville took the lead and were never in danger.

The game between Harrisburg and Alquina resulted in a victory for the latter, the score being 17 to 14.

SOUNDS DEATH KNEEL TO THE ROLLER TOWEL
 *****
 Representative Wider of Elkhart will introduce a bill this week which, if enacted into law, will sound the death knell of the roller towel in hotels and public buildings. The measure will provide that all public buildings, state and county, all hotels and lodging houses, shall provide individual towels for the use of patrons.
 "The bill is strictly for the protection of the public from infectious diseases," about dangers of the public drinking cup, but I think the roller towel is one of the most pernicious evils in the land. Their use endangers the lives of thousands."
 Mr. Wider said the bill was supported by all the traveling men's organizations of the state and by a large number of the city and county boards of health.

PREPARING FOR ANNUAL AFFAIR

Graduates of Indiana University Here Will Attend Banquet in Indianapolis Next Wednesday.

PROMISES TO BE BIG EVENT

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Will Act as Toastmaster.

Arrangements practically have been completed for the annual banquet of the alumni of Indiana University which will be held at the Denison hotel in Indianapolis Wednesday evening, February 8, at 7:30 o'clock. Dick Miller, chairman of the general banquet committee, proposes to make the meeting this year the greatest in the history of the annual affair and special efforts are being made to draw a large delegation from the State outside of Indianapolis.

Charles A. Greathouse, State superintendent of public instruction, has been chosen toastmaster, and Attorney General Thomas M. Honan is another with offices in the State house, whose name will appear on the toast list. The Indiana General Assembly will be represented by Speaker Albert J. Veneman of the lower house, who will respond to the toast "At Random." Two speakers from the University are President William L. Bryan, for the faculty and executive department, and Ralph Sollitt for the student body. Dr. John F. Barnhill will speak for the Indiana University School of Medicine.

One new feature of the banquet this year will be a quartet from the university, which is being trained especially by Dr. Campbell of the music department for the event.

Senate Squeezes Out $1000 License

Compromise Measure to Proctor Law

Fixes Maximum Liquor License at $700.

LEWD PICTURES TO COME OUT

One Saloon For First 500 Inhabitants and One For Every 1,000 Thereafter.

The principal provisions of the amended Proctor restrictive and regulative liquor bill, which is now ready for its third reading or passage, are:

License in all cities, $700; in all towns, $500.

Required that all lewd pictures be removed from saloons.

One revocation of a license will be made perpetual.

Two violations of the liquor laws sufficient for applicant for license to be deemed not of good moral character.

All saloon keepers must be naturalized American citizens.

Number of saloons in any community limited to one for each 1,000 population, but one is permitted for the first 500 or fraction thereof.

Since Governor Marshall has signed the Proctor bill, making it a law which provides that the incorporated city, township and territory in the township outside the incorporated city shall be the unit, the amendment, which was agreed upon in party caucuses before the bill was signed, was drafted Thursday and it was expected that it would be introduced by Senator Procter today.

The amendatory bill is entitled: "A bill for an act to amend Sec. 3 of an act entitled (here follows the title of the Procter option law), approved Feb. 3, 1911, and declaring an emergency."

Sec. 1 provides for the amendment of Sec. 3 of the Procter law. After repeating Sec. 3 in full without changes a fourth clause is added as follows:

4. If the number of qualified voters in such territory in a township outside of and exclusive of all incorporated cities therein can not be ascertained by the method last herein prescribed, then the Board of Commissioners of such county shall forthwith order a poll to be taken of the electors of such territory, as of the date of the filing of such petition, and such poll when taken and returned shall constitute the number of voters of such territory for the purposes of such petition, and if such petition is signed by qualified electors equal to or exceeding 20 per cent. of such number, the same shall be deemed to be sufficient. For the purpose of taking such a poll said Board of Commissioners shall appoint a sufficient number of qualified

TO APPLY FOR LICENSE.

New Castle Times: Although Jackson township, Wayne county, in which Cambridge City and German-town are located, went "dry" by a blanket remonstrance last summer, Bob Wharton, proprietor of the Big Four saloon, will ask the county commissioners for a new license at their next meeting February 1.

HERMIT ADJUDGED INSANE.

New Castle Courier: Arthur Hammon, the Knightstown hermit, who was arrested a day or two since on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon, has been found insane by a lunacy commission, which passed upon his condition. Until admitted to Easthaven he will be a charge at the county jail.

A new liquefied gas invented in Germany and sold to consumers in steel drums is non-poisonous, gives an intensely white light in mantle burners and is said to be thrice powerful as ordinary city gas when used in engines.

electors of such territory to speedily perform such duty, which polltakers shall be first sworn to faithfully and honestly perform their duty. Such poll shall show the name of every qualified elector in such territory and his place of residence.

After said poll is returned, any person interested shall have the right to specifically challenge in writing the correctness of the same, which challenge shall be summarily heard by the commissioners. If, upon such hearing, it appears that any elector has been omitted from said poll, his name shall be added thereto, or that any person has been illegally polled as an elector, his name shall be dropped therefrom. Said poll, when completed, shall be taken as the number of voters in said territory for the purposes of this act.

Said polltakers shall be paid for their services the sum of three dollars ($3) per day each, and the expense of taking said poll shall be paid in the same manner as the expense of holding an election hereunder and without appropriation being first made therefor.

Preliminary to filing a petition for an election hereunder in the territory in a township where the number of voters must be ascertained in the manner herein last provided for, the Board of Commissioners shall, upon the written petition of ten electors residing in said territory, proceed to take the census herein provided for as of the date of the filing of such petition. If said election is ordered in such territory said Board of Commissioners shall have the power and it shall be its duty whenever necessary to fix date and designate the voting places and precincts in such territory, together with the limits and boundaries thereof. The word "township" as used in this act shall be construed to mean civil township.

After said petition is filed no voter shall be permitted to sign his name thereto or to withdraw his name therefrom. In any indictment, affidavit, or information for selling intoxicating liquors as a beverage without license in any such territory, it shall not be necessary to set forth the facts showing that the required number of voters in such territory petitioned for the election and that the election was held, or that a majority voted in favor of prohibiting the sale as herein provided, but it shall be sufficient to allege that the act complained of was then and there prohibited and unlawful. No license to sell intoxicating liquors shall be granted by the Board of Commissioners of any county after an election has been ordered hereunder in such county until such election has been held, and then only in the event such territory votes against prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors therein.

Sec. 2. Whereas an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect of this act, the same shall be in force and effect from and after its passage.

Men Wanted.

Wages $25 to $50 a week in Automobile work—Thousands of jobs waiting for competent men in all parts of the country.

In addition to the immense number now in operation about 300,000 automobiles will be manufactured this year and this means work for thousands of men qualified to Sell, Repair, Drive and Demonstrate Automobiles and trucks. For information write Rochester Automobile School, 108 Church St., Rochester, N. Y. 28211

MORE PAY FOR AUDITOR.

Senator Brady will introduce a bill into the Senate providing pay for county auditors for placing cities of the fourth and fifth classes on the tax duplicates of the county. At present the auditors receive no pay for such services. The bill will provide for a salary of $200 a year for auditors whose duties compel them to record city property of the fifth class on the tax duplicates and $300 a year for those listing property of cities of the fourth class.

Reeves of Knightstown were among the visiting guests at the wedding of Miss Aurelia Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bartlett of Lewisville and Dr. Walter Harvey, a practicing surgeon of Pittsburg, Pa., this week. Dr. Harvey is a former Henry county man, once living near Spiceland, and later in Dunreith.

Prof. Russell of Earlham College, where both bride and bridegroom had attended school, performed the ceremony. A partial ring ceremony was used. Manning Smith of Philadelphia, Pa., was best man. Mr. Smith, too, is a former Henry county resident. Miss Helen Bartlett, younger sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the ribbon bearers were the Misses Angeline Logan, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan; Mary Hedrick, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hedrick; Miss Bernice Anderson of Rushville and Miss Louise Lewis of Connersville.

The bride wore a gown of embroidered white satin, trimmed in fringe and a beautiful heavy lace veil which had been used in many previous wedding ceremonies and is now an heirloom in the Bartlett family.

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey left immediately for Pittsburg, where they will be at home after March 1.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star Grand will give two Imp pictures tonight. The first is a comedy entitled "Rev. Goodleigh's Courtship," and the second is a comedy-drama entitled "His First Patient." Both are good pictures. Mile. La Croix in beautiful electrical plastique poses, and Earl Robertson will sing "Plain Little Girl."

Kennedy and Udel will conclude their week's engagement at the Vaudeville theater tonight at which time they will present the one-act playlet entitled "The Haunted House." The first film will be an Itala, another of the Foolshead series, entitled "Foolshead Marries Against His Will." This is said to be a fine comedy picture. The second picture is a Yankee film, "Lone Wolf's Trust." It tells the story of a great trust placed in the hands of an old Indian.

GOING DOWN?

Butter and egg prices are expected to continue their drop. Produce market manipulators have their money-making schemes exploded by that silent, noncombustible foe, the weather. The warm winter has made butter and eggs plentiful, thus flooding the market with fresh and storage stocks and bringing the prices down to normal.

CHAPTER XIV.

AFTER a few moments Valentine again glanced at the photograph of the dinner group. Next he opened a drawer at his left and took out a square green book with the legend "Scrap Book" in fancy green letters on its cover.

He placed the volume in a drawer at the right of his desk and on top of it laid several other books taken from another drawer. He slammed the drawer shut, straightened himself and walked across the office to the table on which was laid the tray of gold, silver and greenbacks.

"I'm going to beat you, Mr. Doyle," he said fiercely, half aloud. "I'm going to beat you, and I'm going to make you like it."

He seated himself before the tray and began counting the money as the door opened to admit Mr. Lane, followed by Detective Doyle.

Valentine looked up. "Mr. Randall," began Rose's father, "this is Mr. Doyle, a detective, who has been asking me some questions about you that I feel you can better answer."

"Indeed?" looking at Doyle. "What is the name?" Valentine asked innocently.

His attitude made Doyle snort with anger.

"Doyle," the detective grunted impatiently, staring at the man he had known as No. 1289.

Valentine rose and shook hands with Doyle. "Glad to know you, Mr. Doyle."

He seated himself before the tray. "Well, what can I do for you?" he asked.

The detective's mouth gaped open. He glared at the smoothly speaking, indifferently acting ex-convict before him, then at the tray containing thousands of dollars in bills and coins. Valentine went on counting the money as unconcerned as though playing a game of jackstraws with Bobby or Kitty.

"What can you do?" exploded Doyle. "You can do nine years for—"

"You will excuse me," interrupted Mr. Lane, stepping toward the door. "I have no interest in the conversation. I am sure. And, Mr. Doyle," he said pointedly to the bewildered detective, "I want you to thoroughly understand that I have every confidence in Mr. Randall, as also have all the other directors." The door closed behind him and Valentine was alone with George Doyle.

"Well, I'll be blowed!" ejaculated Doyle, turning again to the assistant cashier. "You're in pretty sweet here, aren't you?" pointing to the tray. "I really didn't expect to find you here in the daytime."

"Why?" perplexedly.

"Oh, I thought you'd duck when you got my wire."

"Wire? Oh, did you send that telegram?"

"Yes, Jimmy."

"Jimmy? What's the idea? I don't follow you."

"Oh, you don't know, eh?" angrily. "Got the old boy—Lane—stalling for you, and you're going pretty strong, eh?"

"Exactly what do you mean?" asked Valentine indignantly, rising as he spoke.

"Come on, Jimmy, not with me. Sorry to tear you away from so soft a place, but the state of Massachusetts wants you."

"From the occasional words of intelligible English you speak from time to time," retorted Valentine easily. "I gather that you imagine I am a person named Jimmy." His words were accompanied by the most aggravating of smiles.

The now thoroughly irate detective bent toward the assistant cashier and peered intently at him.

"Imagine—imagine! Well, isn't it funny that I should imagine your name to be Jimmy?"

"It is, indeed," suavely. "As a matter of curiosity, might I ask Jimmy's other name?"

"I'll give you just one guess," pointedly.

"That's exceedingly kind of you, but this same experience having happened before I will likely guess it." He settled back comfortably in his chair.

"Well, what do you think of that?" Doyle found it difficult to control his temper.

"Well, what is the other name?" Valentine responded with the utmost coolness.

"You mistake me for a Mr. Valentine."

"Jimmy Valentine, the very name, and you are Jimmy Valentine, and I want you," snarled the detective.

"Now, is it come along or requisition?"

"Oh, I'm to be arrested for this Jimmy Valentine, am I? The last time I was mistaken for him I was only embarrassed by having a tough on the street in Chicago claim my acquaintance. You are really amusing, Mr. Doyle." The assistant cashier chuckled softly.

"So that's your game, eh?"

"No game that I can see."

"I suppose you are going to deny that Bill Avery called on you today?"

Doyle watched the other intently to note the effect of this shot. But Valentine was entirely equal to the occasion.

"I do not know your friend Bill, Mr. Doyle," positively.

"No," exasperatedly. "Then a man with iron gray hair, wearing a top hat and carrying a cane, did not get off a train here today and come straight here?"

"It is not possible for me to know how the men get here who call on me. Such a man as you describe, however, did call on me. But that man's name was—er—er— He crossed to his desk, paused, glanced perplexedly at Doyle and then reached to the telephone.

"I forgot for the moment, but they likely will know outside. Hello! Do you recall the name of the last man who called on me today? No, not Mr. Doyle; he's here now. Cronin, that's it. Thank you." He hung up the receiver. "Cronin," he added. "He came in here a short time ago to negotiate a loan."

"Cronin?" gasped Doyle. "So he's taken a new moniker, too, has he? And he came to negotiate a loan from Banker Jimmy Valentine? Well, if that isn't rich! I do wish Warden Handler could be here today to hear you pull off this little stunt. I always told him you were too good for the safe breaking game. You ought to be an actor or a United States senator. You're wasting your time in this business."

"I appreciate your compliments, but I really quite fail to understand you," Valentine spoke sharply. "Your attitude is trying my patience, Mr. Doyle. I am a very busy man, with large responsibilities, and as this conversation is entirely frivolous—frivolous, I say—I must regret to fully inform you that I must continue on my day's work." He nodded toward the tray of currency. "Believe me, I am perfectly willing to do what any citizen should do to help apprehend a criminal, but I must ask you—"

"Oh, h—l, Valentine, do you think I've lost my eyesight? You're Jimmy Valentine, and that was Bill Avery who called on you. I guessed he knew where you were and had him watched, and the first trip he made I followed him. Now, cut it out and declare yourself. Do you come, or do I get requisition papers and take you?" His manner became as threatening as his words.

"You will do neither, and you will desist from insinuating that I am a criminal or I will cause the watchman to eject you from the bank. Further, I do not know that you are a detective. Your actions are those of a blackmailer—or—"

A clerk entered.

"Did you ring, sir?"

"Yes. Kindly remove that currency," cried Valentine, eyeing Doyle. "So you recall the name of the last man who called on me today? No, not Mr. Doyle; he's here now. Cronin, that's it. Thank you." He hung up the receiver. "Cronin," he added. "He came in here a short time ago to negotiate a loan."

"Cronin?" gasped Doyle. "So he's taken a new moniker, too, has he? And he came to negotiate a loan from Banker Jimmy Valentine? Well, if that isn't rich! I do wish Warden Handler could be here today to hear you pull off this little stunt. I always told him you were too good for the safe breaking game. You ought to be an actor or a United States senator. You're wasting your time in this business."

"I appreciate your compliments, but I really quite fail to understand you," Valentine spoke sharply. "Your attitude is trying my patience, Mr. Doyle. ## RUN DOWN CONDITIONS

Their Cause and Effect.

Run-down conditions are caused by a lack of iron in the blood and mal-assimilation of food. If you are one of the unfortunates who have drifted into this state, change your diet, eat foods that are rich in mineral elements of nutrition, and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil), which supplies iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form.

A case is reported from Mattoon, Ill.—Mrs. O. M. Watrons was in very poor health for years. She was weak, all run-down, no appetite, and only weighed ninety-seven pounds. She had doctored for a long time without benefit. Vinol was recommended. She tried it, and in less than a year she was in perfect health and weighed 127 lbs.

Vinol creates an appetite, reestablishes perfect digestion and makes good, pure blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down, weak and debilitated, and replaces weakness with strength.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

many suspicious characters about in these hard times that one must always be careful of strange visitors, particularly in a banking office."

The clerk cast an apprehensive glance at Doyle, whose face had turned red with rage, and, seizing the tray, hurried toward the vault room with it.

"Take it out, take it out," commanded Valentine, waving his hand. "I shall take no chances. Now, Mr. Doyle, either show credentials to prove what you are or I shall telephone the police."

Doyle, amazed at the effrontery and daring assurance of Jimmy Valentine, fell back against the wall, his legs threatening to give way beneath his heavy body.

"In the name of Dan the Dip," he exclaimed helplessly. "If the crooks were all as slick as you, Jimmy, the jails would all be empty. You don't dare do it."

Jimmy Valentine picked up the telephone and, getting the central of the bank's exchange, ordered in no uncertain tones:

"Get me police headquarters at once."

Doyle was further astounded by the readiness with which the baffling young man before him had accepted his challenge to call the police. Was it possible, after all, that he had been mistaken? No. It was Jimmy Valentine who stood before him, the same Jimmy that was wanted by the Massachusetts authorities for that old and almost forgotten "job" in the savings bank of Springfield, Mass.—$14,000 in currency taken on a Washington's birthday night and not a mark of an instrument or of an explosive on the safe when next morning the doors were found yawning open, the night watchman gagged and bound helplessly to the metal legs of a stationary wastebasket in the vice president's office.

"Here, cut that out!" he cried, lunging forward at Valentine, awaiting a response to his call. "Don't bring any of these locals in on a big job like this." He thrust back his coat and, opening his vest, revealed a shining shield fastened on one of his suspenders. Valentine bent over and inspected it very deliberately and very closely. He turned to the telephone and instructed central to countermand his call—all a mistake. The two men seated themselves, Doyle drawing a chair close to the assistant cashier's desk.

"Very well, sir. Now if you can see fit to refrain from your embarrassing questions and innuendoes I am sure we may arrive at something."

"Of course you know you will have to prove that you are not Jimmy Valentine."

"Pardon me, Mr. Doyle, if I set you right on a point of law," smiled Valentine. "You will have to prove that I am your friend, Jimmy Valentine."

"But you won't make me," laughing confidently.

"No. To expedite matters I will convince you that I am not."

"Please do, Jimmy."

"Very well. Tell me how I may prove it."

"Pardon me, Mr. Doyle, if I set you right on a point of law," smiled Valentine. "You will have to prove that I am your friend, Jimmy Valentine."

"But you won't make me," laughing confidently.

"No. To expedite matters I will convince you that I am not."

"Please do, Jimmy."

"Very well. Tell me how I may prove it."

"Pardon me, Mr. Doyle, if I set you right on a point of law," smiled Valentine. "You will have to prove that I am your friend, Jimmy Valentine."

"But you won't make me," laughing confidently.

"No. To expedite matters I will convince you that I am not."

"Very simply. I said goodbye to you in a hotel one afternoon in Albany three years ago. You were fresh from—Sing Sing prison."

"Am I to understand that I was in prison, a prisoner?"

"Doing a bit," yes."

"But I couldn't have been, I couldn't have been in two places at the same time."

"No, not easily, and as Sing Sing doesn't allow its boarders to go visiting I guess you were there. Now, think hard and try to remember," advised the detective.

"Mr. Doyle, there can be no chance of any deception in so open and shut a matter. If I was in prison I must be your man. If I was not—"

"You were in Sing Sing; committed on the 9th of February, 1906."

"February 9, 1906, I was in St. Paul, Minnesota, sir," returned Valentine positively.

"Well, the proof is finally up to you."

"But my word," injuredly.

"Oh, you are going to talk me out of it."

"But I can't get proof in an instant. Go up there and investigate."

"No; it's too far, and don't forget you were going to prove it."

Valentine now appeared to be disconcerted. Doyle watched him curiously. He did not underestimate the cleverness of the young man who had outwitted the veteran trackers of men for years and whose escapades extended over half a continent. But he was anxious for the next step in what he considered a colossal attempt at deception.

JUAREZ EXPECTS TO BE ATTACKED TODAY

The Town Said to Stand Absolutely No Show.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 4.—The rebel army is several miles closer to Juarez and that city is still isolated from the rest of Mexico. It is now within striking distance and members of the rebel junta in El Paso say the attack upon the town is only being delayed until notice can be served on the foreign consuls of the intention to attack, inasmuch as the rebels carry machine guns and some field pieces and will bombard the place if necessary.

The Juarez garrison has not been reinforced, and with less than 300 armed men, it stands absolutely no show against the 800 or 1,000 revolutionists in the advancing column. Antonio Ponce de Leon, for twelve years chief of police of the beleaguered city, resigned and came to El Paso with his family. Customs Collector Adeolfe Baret and Postmaster Eduardo Rodriguez have moved their families to El Paso and are spending their nights here. Several of the volunteer citizen guard of Juarez express deep dissatisfaction over the removal of these officers in time of need, and as a result some say they will quit serving as guards. Enrique Calderon, chief of volunteers, also resigned.

Colonel Tamboura, commanding the Mexican federal troops, when told that the Washington authorities were discussing the advisability of sending American soldiers to prevent the bombardment of Juarez, declared he did not need them, and that they would not be welcome. Most of the places of business and all gambling resorts in Juarez are closed and the mayor ordered all saloons closed. There is no attempt to prevent Americans visiting the Mexican city, and many auto parties have gone down to the insurgent lines and talked with the advancing troops.

Beattie Will Hold On.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Peace has been patched up between Attorney General Wickersham and Charlton R. Beattie, United States district attorney, at New Orleans. Beattie will remain in office, and the attorney general, it is said, will withdraw the request for his resignation made some time ago.

Baltimore, Feb. 4.—Johnny Hayes, the Marathon runner, will race Alfred Shrubbs, the English star, and St. Yves in a fifteen-mile test here today.

GEN. SMITH BREAKS SILENCE OF YEARS

"Hell Roaring Jake" Has Come Out In the Open.

Toledo, O., Feb. 4.—After a silence of ten years, since his enforced retirement from the United States army, Gen. Jacob H. Smith, better known as "Hell Roaring Jake," has come out in the open and tells some inside facts as to his orders when he was sent to the Samar islands to quell an outbreak of savages, scoring Colonel Roosevelt in his remarks. The outbreak came when General Smith was elected president of a men's club of an Episcopal church at Portsmouth, and was called on for a speech. General Smith said:

"While I was still in the Philippines I received orders assigning me to the department of Texas, but these were rescinded and I received orders to proceed at once to Samar to suppress an outbreak among the natives. If I would make public the nature of those orders, your hair would stand on end."

"When we got to Ballangiga, in Samar, we found the wounded had been mutilated and burned. I gave instructions to my men to fight the savages to a finish, but to my knowledge not a single woman or child was killed by my soldiers during my campaign. We taught the savages a lesson that they needed badly."

"When I came back to this country I was pictured as a monster, instead of coming home a hero, as I expected. I was retired two years before my time had expired by that man Roosevelt, who afterward lauded his friend, General Wood, to the skies for a similar campaign in the Philippines, except that Wood did not spare anybody of either sex."

"To my knowledge Theodore Roosevelt has never hesitated in sacrificing a friend to further his own insane ambitions and desires for popularity."

Mrs. Russell Sage has given $300,000 to Cornell university to be used in the construction of a woman's dormitory.

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

NEW OPTION LAW IS NOW IN FORCE

Governor Marshall Has Attached
His Signature.

DOINGS IN THE LEGISLATURE

A Variation of the Daily Grind Was Caused by the Visit of the Assembled Democratic Editors of the State
Who Were Honored by Both Houses
Taking a Recess in Order to Give Them a Proper Reception.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 4.—Governor
Marshall late yesterday afternoon
signed the Proctor local option bill amending the law enacted by the special legislature of 1908. This amended law substitutes the township and city and township outside the city as the unit of election in declaring the people's option on the subject of the presence of saloons in the territory affected instead of the county, as in the law of 1908. The amended bill became a law at once with the inscription of the governor's signature, the bill having an emergency clause attached thereto.

The bill introduced by Senator Proctor, author of the local option bill, to regulate the operation of saloons, is still before the senate for amendments and considerable progress is being made toward completing the measure.

An incidental feature of the session yesterday was a visit from the assembled Democratic editors of the state,
who closed their midwinter session with a banquet at the Denison hotel last night. Both houses took a recess upon the visit of the editors and felicitous speeches were made. President Clay W. Mettler of the editorial association responding for the visitors.

Specific Appropriations.

In the house Representative Cravens, chairman of the ways and means committee, introduced the regular and specific appropriations bills, which the house committee and the senate committee on finance completed this week.
The regular or maintenance appropriations bill followed the recommendations of the legislative visiting committee, with the exception of $35,000 added to the maintenance fund for Indiana university; $300 a year in the salary of the quartermaster general, and $1,300 a year increase in the salary of the state fish and game commissioner.

The specific appropriations bill provided for a total appropriation of $821-532.04, or approximately $100,000 more than was recommended by the legislative visiting committee. This sum is $71,532.94 more than the sum the governor said in his message to the general assembly should be made the limit of the total specific appropriations.
Cravens said the two committees had figured the specific items as closely as possible, and that the committee believed the state would be able to meet the total without serious difficulty.

The regular appropriations bill will be taken up by the house, sitting as a committee of the whole, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The consideration of the specific appropriations bill will come later, at a time to be set.
It is said that the specific appropriations will not be considered by the house until after the main bill has been disposed of.

Hospital Gift Accepted.

By unanimous vote of the house the senate bill to accept for the state the proposed gift by Dr. Robert W. Long and wife of this city, of real estate valued at $200,000 for the purpose of raising funds to build a state hospital in connection with the Indiana university school of medicine, was passed.
The bill as it was introduced in the senate and as it passed that body, did not carry any annual appropriation for the maintenance of the proposed hospital. So an amendment was made in the bill in the house providing for an annual maintenance appropriation of $25,000, payable quarterly. The bill was passed under a suspension of the rules. It will go to the governor in a few days for his signature. When the governor's signature is attached the bill will become a law and the gift will be secure.

The Thornton concurrent resolution appealing to congress to reduce tariff schedules to relieve the consumer from the burden of the high cost of living, was passed by the house without discussion. The resolution, if passed by the senate, will be sent to the president of the United States and to the national senate and house, as the expression of the Indiana general assembly on the question of tariff revision.

Armory Bill Killed.

"Taxation of the county for state purposes," was the cry of the house skirmishers who led the battle line against the Strickland armory bill, which was killed in the house by a vote of 56 to 37. Further action on the bill was forestalled by a vote to table a motion to reconsider.

Senator Fleming's bill to boost the salaries of county commissioners in certain counties was sent to the house committee on fees and salaries.

The Carter bill to prevent auto testing in highways was amended to include motorcycles and was passed in the amended form, 87 to 8.

Even Hardshell Regulars Oppose

Washington, Feb. 4.—Caucus rule among the Republicans of the house threatens to go to smash over the apportionment bill. Republican leaders stared with amazement when they learned that such hard-shelled regulars
as Representatives Greene of Masso-chusetts, Langley of Kentucky and Austin of Tennessee, who have always stood without being hitched, intended to carry out their threats to oppose the apportionment that was approved by the party caucus. The three members named are mild-mannered under ordinary conditions, but they are mad over the apportionment bill and will go as far as necessary in fighting the caucus measure, which provides for a house of 391 members, which will mean a reduction of membership in eleven states, including Indiana, which would lose one representative.

The leaders are up in the air over this legislation. They are hopeful that the caucus bill will be passed, and in fact expect it to pass, but there are uncertainties that cause them concern.

She's Going to Watch 'Em.

West Hammond, Ill., Feb. 4.—This place voted to incorporate as a city by a majority of 31. Mrs. Virginia Brooks, leader of the opposition, who opposed incorporation on the ground that a city government would afford greater opportunity for grafting, says she will now watch the conduct of the city officers closely.

Editors Elect Officers.

Indianapolis, Feb. 4.—The Indiana

of Albany, second vice president; C.
J. Arnold of Greencastle, secretary, and Frank Heller of Decatur, treasurer.

ELECTION DUE TO CORRUPTION

Root's Conclusion In the Case of Lorimer.

UGHT TO BE SENT BACK HOME

In a Set Address That Created a Profound Impression in the Senate, the New York Member Declared That the Blonde Gentleman From Illinois
Should Be Excluded From His Senatorial Seat.

Washington, Feb. 4.—In a speech in the senate Senator Root of New York declared that Senator William Lorimer of Illinois should be excluded from his seat because of corruption by which his election was brought about.
Senator Root spoke for more than two hours, and his speech made a profound impression on the senate. Following the conclusion of Mr. Root's speech, Senators Bailey, Reyburn and Paynter defended the report of the committee on privileges and election, of which they are members, and declared that the testimony before the committee showed that Senator Lorimer was entitled to his seat. Senator Bailey replied that if Mr. Lorimer was to be excluded on account of general corruption in Illinois politics, then his colleague, Senator Cullom, would probably be subjected to the process of elimination, for it could probably be shown that the legislature which elected him was also corrupt. Mr. Bailey's remark was called out by an observation of Senator Hale that the testimony in the Lorimer case showed a shocking condition of corruption in the Illinois legislature.

Disagrees With Committee.

Citing the resolution under which the inquiry was directed, Mr. Root said that the committee had failed to find the testimony sufficient to justify the conclusion that Mr. Lorimer's seat had been rendered invalid by the practice of corrupt methods or practices.

"It is fair to infer," he said, "that the committee was of the opinion that corrupt methods and practices were resorted to, but that their legal effect was not such as to invalidate Mr. Lorimer's election. This view is sustained by the testimony before us, and I regret to say that after an examination of this testimony I am constrained to disagree with the members of the committee."

Saying that he had been forced to this conclusion with deep regret, both on account of his respect for the members of the committee and out of regard for Mr. Lorimer, Senator Root said that he had been impelled to reach an adverse view in the interest of the state of Illinois and of the country at large.

"I can not," he said, most earnestly,
"come to any different conclusion."

DOG OUTMATCHED

Gorilla Made Quick End of an Unequal Combat.

New Orleans, Feb. 4.—Almost the entire male population of New Iberia assembled to witness a much advertised battle between a gorilla and an English bulldog. The gorilla won in a little over two minutes, and much money changed hands, although the odds were strongly in favor of the gorilla.

Angola is the gorilla's name. He is a youngster and weighs only 100 pounds. His owner, a showman, has been making public offers each night to match him against any dog. George W. Wilson of Patterson, La., took up the offer with his English bull, "Terry." The dog, which weighed sixty-eight pounds, was put into the pen with the gorilla, and in a jiffy he was dead.

The dog leaped at the gorilla, which caught it just as a man catches a baseball, and quickly bit through its skull.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE

Young Woman School Teacher Mysteriously Missing at Anderson.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 4.—There is much mystery in the disappearance of Miss Sheldon Fletcher, a teacher in the city schools. The police are much inclined to believe that the disappearance is the result of reading about the Arnold case in New York. The teachers believe she has met with foul play.
Her parents are alarmed and have appealed to the authorities to search for her. The police have learned that Miss Fletcher took a deep interest in the disappearance of the daughter of Millionaire Arnold, and they think it might have affected her mind.

No Trace of Dorothy Arnold.

New York, Feb. 4.—The family of Dorothy Arnold has no more information today as to what has become of her than they had on the day she vanished. It may be stated that the Arnolds believe now that the young woman is dead, probably by her own hand.

Ohio Lyncher Found Guilty.

Newark, O., Feb. 4.—William Mc-Kinley, a shopkeeper, was found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the lynching here last July of Carl Etherington, a detective for the dry element. He is the second of the mob leaders to be convicted.
